The E34 and E36 were the last BMWs that are easy to swap. As Matt said, the hardware is the easy part. On an E39, not only does the OBC know to look for an automatic transmission, but the instrument cluster will only work with the OBC from the same car, with the same VIN. There are two ways around this, from what I understand.

Onwards, to the E34! This is the second easiest to swap, mostly because the electronics are pretty unobtrusive. The most common swap is for the 540, as they only made it for 2 years, one of which they offered a manual. Thankfully, one of our wise forum members posted a parts list for the swap. As for the actual procedure, it is much like a normal swap.
