2.2 Survival as the Ultimate Value. The survivalist view holds that just as literal survival is the ultimate value for other living entities, so it is for human beings (Kelley & Thomas 1999; Gotthelf 1999; Smith 2000). Survival is the source and final goal of all the actions of an entity, that which gives point to all its other values.

Spiritualism is a new religious movement based on the belief that the spirits of the dead exist and have the ability and the necessary means to communicate with the living. The afterlife, or the "spirit world", is seen by spiritualists, not as a static place, but as one in which spirits continue to evolve. These two beliefs—that contact with spirits is possible, and that spirits are more ...

True. Everything is energy. But that doesn't mean that there's an even, free-exchange of energy between two people. Some times there is; other times there isn't. In all likelihood, in most cases, it's not an even exchange of energy. Generally speaking, one person feels depleted after the exchange. Comment 2: Babies need love and attention.
